Whitehall, September 21.

THIS Morning one of His Majeſty's Meſſengers arrived at the Office of the Right Honorable Lord Grenville, His Majeſty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, with Diſpatches from the Earl of Elgin, His Majeſty's Envoy Extraordinary to the Court of Bruſſels, of which the following is an Extract.

St. Amand, September 16, 1793.

I Have the Honor of encloſing to your Lordſhip the Report of the Recapture of Menin, as ſent in by General Beaulieu to Prince Cobourg.

September 15, 1793.

THIS Morning the French, to the Number of Twelve or Fourteen Thouſand Men, advanced from Wevelghem to Biſſeghem, where they attacked the Advanced Poſts on the Left of General Beaulieu's Army. The Attack was briſk, and would have compleatly ſucceeded on the Side of the French, if General Beaulieu had not ſent ſpeedy and ſucceſſive Re-inforcements to the Poſt of Biſſeghem. The French had then Recourſe to their numerous Artillery, in order to diſlodge the Auſtrians from their Poſition behind the Landerbeg; and they would have been ſucceſsful there, if they had not ſuddenly found their Left turned by a Body of Auſtrian Infantry, headed by Captain Malkſham, of the Regiment of Beaulieu, who attacked them with Cannon on the Left Flank, and alſo in the Rear. This Movement of the Auſtrians on the Left Flank of the French had ſuch an Effect upon the latter, that they began to give Way. General Beaulieu then availing himſelf of this Circumſtance, charged them in Front, and put them totally to Flight. They retreated towards Menin. General Beaulieu having collected his Cavalry, which had routed the French, waited for Reports from his Right, in order to be aſſured that he might purſue the Enemy without Interruption. The Reports arrived about One o'Clock, P. M. In conſequence, General Beaulieu, without a Moment's Heſitation, marched towards Menin; the rather as he had learnt that General Ehrbach, with Four Battalions and Eight Squadrons, was on his March from Rouſlaer. In the Purſuit General Beaulieu's Advanced Guard had ſeveral Skirmiſhes, in which it had conſtantly the Advantage, repulſing the Enemy quite to the Gates of Menin. At Fuor in the Afternoon General Beaulieu arrived with his whole Corps under the Walls of that Town, and attacked the French with Cannon; at the ſame Time he aſſaulted the Ramparts near the Gate of Rouſlaer, when the French, without any further Reſiſtance, totally abandoned the Place, and paſſed the Lys with Precipitation, leaving at the Bridge only a weak Rear-Guard, which was entirely killed or taken by the Auſtrian Troops, who entered at the Gate of Courtray. In this Interval General Ehrbach arrived with his Corps, and immediately paſſed the Lys. Two Engliſh Squadrons joined the Auſtrian Huſſars in the Purſuit of the French, who retreated towards Roncq. In this Action we loſt about One Hundred Men, killed or wounded. The Loſs of the French is between Four and Five Hundred Men. We are not able at preſent to compute the Number of Priſoners. At the Departure of the Meſſenger, who brought this agreeable Intelligence, about 150 were arrived in the Square of Menin, together with Two Pieces of Cannon, and Eighteen Ammunition Waggons.

Whitehall, September 21.

THE following Diſpatch from Colonel Sir James Murray, Adjutant General to the Forces under the Command of His Royal Highneſs the Duke of York, was this Afternoon received at the Office of the Right Honrable Henry Dundas, His Majeſty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Menin, September 17, 1793.

SIR,

I HAD the Honor of informing you, that upon the Retreat of the Dutch Troops from Menin, His Royal Highneſs intended to march upon Thouroute, in order to oppoſe the further Progreſs of the Enemy, and to act in Conjunction with General Beaulieu, who commanded a Corps of Auſtrians near Courtray.

This March was executed upon the 14th. Lieutenant-General Erbach, with Two Battalions of Auſtrians and Two of Heſſian Infantry, and Four Squadrons of Britiſh Cavalry, under the Command of Major-General Harcourt, was ordered to advance the ſame Day to Rouſelaire. Upon the 15th the Main Body of the Army advanced to Rouſelaire, and Lieutenant-General Erbach's Corps to Ledeghem, it being His Royal Highneſs's Intention to attack the Enemy, and force them to repaſs the Lys. Information was received at Rouſelaire of the Prince of Cobourg's being in March towards Liſle with a large Body of Troops, which His Serene Highneſs had put in Motion, as ſoon as he had learnt that Menin was evacuated.

During the March of the Army, the Enemy had attacked General Beaulieu's Advanced Poſts; Eight Battalions were ſent to his Support; but the Enemy had been repulſed before their Arrival.

This appears to been only intended to cover their Retreat, as they had begun to evacnate Menin early in the Morning. In the Courſe of the Day they entirely abandoned that important Poſt, which was taken Poſſeſſion of in the Evening by Lieutenant-General Erbach. Yeſterday the Army marched again: A Camp was taken near Menin, and the advanced Poſts puſhed on to Werwick, which the Enemy had likewiſe abandoned, ſo that by theſe Movements Auſtrian Flanders has been protected, and this Part of it recovered.

I have the Honor, &c.

JA. MURRAY.

Admiralty Office, September 21.

A Letter hath this Day been received from Vice-Admiral Lord Hood, Commander in Chief of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels in the Mediterranean, to Mr. Stephens, dated on board the Victory, in the Outer Road of Toulon, the 1ſt Inſtant, of which the following is an Extract.

YEſterday Afternoon a Part of Carteaux's Army, conſiſting of 750 Men, approached near Toulon. Captain Elphinſtone, whom I had appointed Governor of the Great Fort of Malgue and it's Dependencies, marched out, at the Head of 600 Troops, and put it to the Rout, took Four Pieces of Cannon, their Ammunition, &c.

Herewith I have the Honor to ſend you Governor Elphinſtone's Letter; and moſt exceedingly lament the Loſs of a very excellent Officer, Major Douglas, whom I had appointed Fort-Major, and whoſe Zeal for going out with the Troops could not be reſtrained. The Ball entered his Breaſt, and was extracted at the Shoulder Blade. He died laſt Night.

Upon

Upon the Troops leaving the Fort, the appointed Signal was made for a Number of Seamen that were kept ready, and 400 were on Shore immediately, to put the Fort out of Danger.

Rear-Admiral Goodall has taken upon him the Charge and Command of Governor of Toulon, and Rear-Admiral Gravina that of Commandant of the Troops.

The Signal is, this Moment, for the Convoy's being in Sight, with a conſiderable Body of Spaniſh Troops, from the Army in Rouſillon.

Toulon, Auguſt 31, 1793.

MY LORD,

IN conſequence of the Information I had the Honor to ſend your Lordſhip Yeſterday Forenoon, and the repeated Applications which I had received from the Committee of War and Safety, I thought proper to ſend out a Patrole towards Ollouiles, to reconnoitre the Enemy and to examine their Force; at the ſame Time I ordered 300 Britiſh, and the ſame Number of Spaniſh Troops, to be under Arms, and I directed the Committee of War to furniſh a Proportion of their beſt Troops, and Six Pieces of Cannon, with Ammunition and Waggons, to be in Readineſs. About Three o'Clock the Patrole returned with ſome Peaſants, who had been wounded by the Enemy's Dragoons, who informed me that certain Troops of Carteaux were poſted at Senary and l'Ollouiles, about Five Miles from hence, to the Amount of 600 Men, with Ten Pieces of Cannon, and a few Cavalry: I inſtantly marched out with the Britiſh and Spaniſh Troops, taking the Road to Ollouiles, having Four Guides along with me (belonging to that Place) and having left Directions that the French Troops, with the Cannon, &c. ſhould inſtantly follow. On the Road I met wounded Peaſants, who informed me that their whole Force was now poſted in Ollouiles. When we approached within Half a Mile of that Place, I obſerved a Party of the Enemy endeavouring to gain an Eminence on our Right. I detached Captain Haddon and Wemys, of the 11th Regiment of Foot, to prevent this, and to advance with their Parties, keeping Poſſeſſion of the high Grounds, and ſent Lieutenant Knight, with a Party of the ſame Regiment, on the like Service, to the Left, both of which Duties were admirably executed. I then advanced with the Aide du Camp to reconnoitre the Enemy's Situation, and found they were poſted in the Village of l'Ollouiles, upon the Side of a ſteep Hill, a deep Ravine in their Front, with a Stone Bridge over it, defended with Two Pieces of Cannon, and the Windows filled with Muſquetry; about Two Hundred Yards further up the Hill, at a ruinous Caſtle, there were Two more Pieces of Cannon, and the Walls of the Vineyards lined with Muſquetry. It was now Half paſt Six in the Evening, without any Appearance of the French Troops or the Cannon from Toulon; it became therefore neceſſary, either to attack immediately or to retire: I preferred the former, and ordered the Flanking Patty to keep up an inceſſant Firing upon the Cannon at the Bridge; I then ordered the Column, under Cover of a Stone Wall, cautiouſly to advance within Two Hundred Yards, and then, being open to the Fire of the Enemy, to ruſh forward, which was executed under a very ſevere Fire; when the Enemy inſtantly abandoned their Poſts, on all Quarters, leaving us in Poſſeſſion of their Cannon, Horſes and Ammunition, Two Stand of Colours, Drums, &c. They were purſued up a very ſteep Hill to the further End of the Village. It was now become nearly dark, and the Ammunition was expended, which induced me to order the Troops to occupy the Eminence, as we were in an unknown Country, and abandoned by the Guides (who fled upon the firſt Fire. After halting for an Hour, I led the Troops back to Toulon, with the Priſoners and Cannon taken from the Enemy, and on the Road we met the French Troops and the Cannon, which ought to have left Toulon with us, but which unfortunately had been delayed. From the Information that we received in the Village, and from the Priſoners, we found that we had beaten the Elite of Carteaux' Army, conſiſting of between Seven and Eight Hundred Men and ſome Cavalry, which had been ſent from Marſeilles, for the Purpoſe of overawing Toulon, and that they expected to have been joined the next Day by 400 Men, and 8 Pieces of Cannon. In this little Affair, it becomes my Duty to inform your Lordſhip, that the Conduct of the Troops, thoſe of His Majeſty as well as thoſe of the King of Spain, was highly meritorious. Captain Moncrief, of the 11th, Commandant of the Britiſh Troops, headed the Column with a Degree of Intrepidity worthy of Imitation; and Don Monteiro, Commandant of the Spaniſh Troops, conducted himſelf with equal Valour. But the Credit of the Day was chiefly derived from the great Exertion and gallant Behaviour of Captain Douglas, Town-Major of Toulon; and it is with Grief I add, that he was mortally wounded, and is ſince dead: In my Mind, the King's Service has ſuſtained a great Loſs. The Conduct of Enſign Forſter, of the 30th Regiment, my Aide du Camp, was ſuch as to give me the fulleſt Satisfaction, and hope will render him an Object of Attention.

I have the Honor to be,
My Lord,
Your Lordſhip's moſt obedient humble Servant,
G. K. ELPHINSTONE.
